People Respond

Just about the time we get discouraged by the prevalent small town syndrome of apathy and indifference, something happens and we are reminded why we're here, instead of somewhere else.

This time it's the incident of the police chief, standing on the highway holding a sign that says "Give to the Eric Necaise Heart Fund", and a group of nine to 11-year-olds, Junior Police Assn. members, collecting money from motorists for an old friend who's in trouble.

This time it's Eric Necaise, former city policeman and hospital security guard who is hospitalized following open heart surgery.

Before Eric it was an 18-year-old high schooler who was paralyzed in an accident, and before that it was a couple with babies whose new home burned to the ground, and everything they owned with it. The word went out in a few days money, food and clothing came pouring in from all over the community.

There are a lot of such incidents, many of which are not publicized. Each year, more affluent members of one church which operates a private school give money to another church school so that a child may attend the school of his denomination.

Whenever there's a need the people of this community come through, willingly. Because that's the best part of a small town. Its people do care about each other, and they're not afraid to show it.

Tips To Veterans And Dependents

PREPARED BY CHESTER CURVEY HANCOCK COUNTY VETERANS SERVICE OFFICER

Veterans drawing compensation or pension from the veterans Administration and who are also GI Insurance policy holders should, by all means, have their insurance premiums deducted from their compensation or pension payments. This not only avoids the chance of a lapsed policy
it will save you time and money in getting the money order and mailing it to the VA. This also applies to Veterans drawing retirement checks and carrying GI Insurance.

All veterans having National Service Life Insurance (NSLI),
except disabled veterans
having RH Insurance policies, are reminded they can make application for a Total Disability Income Protection
rider to the policy if it is done before the policyholder reaches the age of 55. It would provide a monthly income of $10.00 for each $1000.00 of insurance in force, on account of total disability lasting six months or more, if the insured became disabled before reaching his or her 65th birthday. The cost to the insured is very slight to have this added on.

A question often ask by veterans 65 years old or older, who are drawing a pension or are eligible for Veterans Administration Hospitalization, is whether they should continue to carry Medicare (Part B).
The best advice is DO NOT DROP YOUR MEDICARE BENEFITS. Remember that admission to a VA Hospital is on a space available basis. The VA Hospital may be full just when you want to go to the hospital, in which case you would have to enter a private hospital and pay the regular commercial rate. This could be very costly.

Veterans with a low income,
that is a small pension and social security payments only should contact local Public Assistance Offices to determine eligibility for Federal Food Stamps.
Eligibility is determined in several ways. You might be eligible. Try It You'll Like It.

Veterans who are marginally employed, such as working on their own farm, or in own business, or at odd jobs at less than half the usual hours of work, or less than half the usual pay, due to disabilities,
may be eligible for a pension due to this unemployability. See your Veterans Service Officer.

A housewife, who is a veteran, may qualify as unemployable, if she is no longer able to perform the principal household duties without substantial help. It is not required that the veteran be employed less than half time and also be earning less than half pay; either one in itself will be enough.

Social Security Information

Don't try to memorize your social security number. Don't especially try to repeat your social security number from memory when an employer asks you for the number for his records when you start a new job.

That advice comes from Joseph D. Alfonso,
representative of the Gulfport
social security office.
"Your social security number has nine digits," Mr.
Alfonso notes. "If you try to memorize it, you can easily give a wrong number when you try to repeat it. If you furnish a wrong social security number to an employer, it may cause difficulty in crediting your earnings to your social security record. That may eventually affect your social security benefits."

An employee's earnings are credited to his social security number when they are reported by his employer. The employee's earnings determine the amount of monthly social security benefits he may collect when he retires or becomes severely disabled;
also the amount of benefits his family may get if he dies prematurely.

"If all of your earnings are not credited to your social security card number, your

Chamber Report

by Sylvia McCloskey

This has been a very busy week at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce. We have been working in an attempt to get an employment office set up in Hancock County so that our people will not have to travel out of the County for this service. We are trying to act as an intermediary in employment needs of local businesses; this, with the idea of saving valuable time of local proprietors and managers, who must now spend time in job interviews even if they have no openings. Businessmen needing employees, contact the Chamber office.

The biggest item of the week
was that of the Litton employees from California who will soon move to our area as a part of the Litton Industrial Expansion. These people are being flown from California for a five-day tour of the Gulf Coast area. They look us over, see what we have to offer and decide where they want to live.
Although we may be in the fringe area for comfortable commuting, we nevertheless feel that we have the edge with the people who are looking for the good life—the area has to offer. Diamondhead can offer comfortable homes and the best in recreation, while the county and cities can offer
excellent schools, churches, and medical care, as well as housing. Add to this the one hour trip to the attractions of New Orleans and you have a package to appeal to this group of people.

We plan to act as intermediary between those local real estate agents who want our help, and the Personnel Placement Department of Litton. There are many craftsmen seeking homes and with an estimated 200 vacant homes and apartments in the Bay-Waveland area alone, a local payroll of $120 to 150 thousand dollars a month could be generated without any increase in the cost of anything.

We can just fill what we have and we have the equivalent of a new industry.

There is cooperation among all Mississippi Gulf Coast communities in this venture, as the idea is to keep them at home in Mississippi, and out of Mobile. There is increasing evidence that the time is ripe for the construction of more of $30,000 - up speculative homes.

Thanks to those who paid their dues to the Chamber this week. A special thanks goes to Ingram Industries for their unsolicited "special contribution".

NOTE: We need some testimonials! Will some of the people who live in Hancock County and commute to Litton, please write us a short summary that we can use on "Why I chose Hancock County as the place I wanted to live." Any Realtors wishing to place exclusive listings for the scrutiny of the incoming Litton employees, contact the Chamber and we will convey them to the proper place.

Race Driver Flies High Down Under

Winning Australian auto racer, Jack Brabham, a five-time competitor in the Indianapolis 500 Race, now devotes his full time to the faster activities of flying in his country. Brabham recently became a distributor for single and twin engine North American Rockwell (NR) Aero Commander aircraft and Sabre business jets at his Bankstown, New South Wales base. Brabham says general aviation has taken on new importance in Australia, the "down under" country, with the vast distances between towns and huge ranching operations spread over thousands of miles. The three-time International Grand Prix Race winner is shown here with one of his entries in the Indy 500 Race and at the controls of a New Shrike Commander. At the top left, Brabham takes a new Aero Commander 685 off, just prior to the return trip to his country from the NR Bethany, Oklahoma plant. The 685 cruises at a speed of 255 mph at 24,000 feet. The pressurized Aero Commander 685 is the newest in a line of economical, high performance twin engine business aircraft.

Trumpets In The Morning

First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis

A PROMISE AND A COM- MAND

What does the New Testament talk about chiefly? By far the greatest part of it is devoted to telling Christians how to live after they have found Christ as their Saviour, rather than how to get salvation from the penalty of sin.

Before our Lord was born, the Angel of the Lord said of Him, "Thou shalt call His name Jesus for He shall save His people from their sins" (Matt. 1:21).

Quite early in His ministry Christ Himself said to His disciples, "Be ye therefore perfect even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect" (Matt. 5:48).

This must mean something. The saviour would never command an impossibility. Here He definitely bids us possess some sort of "perfection" - in fact a perfection in some way like that of God the Father.

It is very wonderful and at first sight it seems impossible. People who get their own way usually get the worst of it.

incomprehensible. But there is the command.

Peter, speaking by the Holy Spirit, gives a very similar exhortation: "But LIKE as HE which called you is holy, be ye yourselves also holy in all manner of living; because it is written 'Ye shall be holy, for I am holy'" (1 Peter 1:15).

We are then definitely commanded to possess some sort of "holiness" - in fact a holiness like that of Jesus Christ.

The writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews show how important this is. "Follow Peace," says he, "with all men, and holiness, without which no man can see the Lord" (Heb. 12:14).

John tells us plainly that he is writing his first Epistle so that its readers "may not sin" (1 John 2:1).

STRAIGHT AHEAD!

The Living Hell Of Alcoholism

By Marileen Maher
Echo News Editor

Most alcoholics who are trying to find their way back to the real world begin by attending weekly meetings of the local chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous, an organization which has made great strides in helping the chronic alcoholic.

There are at least twenty treatments for alcoholism ranging from physical-medical treatments to completely mental-emotional approaches. All of them, according to the relatively poor statistics available, indicate a small degree of success. Although AA keeps no statistics, many experts agree that this program has been the most successful.

PART THREE

AA is not like most organizations; there are no by-laws, no dues, no rules nor any religious or political affiliations. There is only one purpose—to help the alcoholic get and stay sober.

The philosophy behind the AA "cure" is very simple but at the same time very hard to explain to the non-alcoholic. Basically it is "the blind leading the blind"—people sharing a common problem. By admitting and discussing their sickness, alcoholics can find hope and knowledge in the fact that someone understands, someone cares. This, combined with a sincere desire to remain sober, helps the alcoholic to commit himself to a life without alcohol.

There is no long range program in AA, no "game plan" to achieve success. In fact it is better if the alcoholic does not set a goal by saying to himself "I will stop drinking for two months". Failure usually follows and often the alcoholic slips back into old habits—and friendly bottles.

Alcoholics are encouraged to promise to themselves that they will stop drinking today, only today, and will not worry about tomorrow. This is emphasized at all AA meetings—"One day at a time, just one day at a time".

Despite a popular rumor, God is not dead at AA meetings. AA members believe in the power of a supreme being and enlist His help in attaining sobriety. Although not committed to any one religion, alcoholics are urged to find their God and count on Him for strength during their struggle.

AA groups are financially self-sufficient, relying on small contributions from its members. This money is used to pay for advertising the meetings in local papers, paying for the use of a meeting place and purchasing coffee and soft drinks, beverages that are musts at every AA meeting.

Why anonymous? Although many well-known people have openly discussed their alcoholism, anonymity is essential to the average man who is frightened by the thought that his friends and business associates may discover his problem. This thought alone stops many people from coming to AA meetings. AA stresses personal anonymity and hopes to find and help alcoholics through the use of pamphlets and magazine and newspaper articles, not through promotion.

Perhaps an understanding of how AA works can be found in the "TWELVE STEPS" which is a suggested "program" for recovery:

1. We admitted we were powerless over alcohol—that our lives had become unmanageable.

2. Came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.

3. Made a decision to turn our will and our lives over to the care of God AS WE UNDERSTOOD HIM.

4. Made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.

5. Admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.

Police, JPA's Collect For Necaise Fund

Last weekend Highway 90 travelers in Bay St. Louis were startled to see uniformed city policemen standing on the neutral ground at the Main St. intersection holding signs, and groups of young Junior Police Association members standing at the road's edge holding cans.

It was a voluntary effort on the part of city policemen and JPA members, headed by Chief William Carbonette, to collect money for the Eric Necaise Heart Fund.

Necaise, a former city policeman and more recently a Hancock General Hospital security guard, has been seriously ill and hospitalized for some months. Recent open heart surgery and an extended recuperative period have incurred excessive medical bills. A trust fund has been set up at the Hancock Bank, with Carbonette and Mrs. Frederick Langbein as trustees. All donations to either the police chief or Mrs. Langbein are committed to the fund to be used to defray as many medical fees as possible.

Last weekend $362.79 was collected through the generosity of local motorists in four and a half hours, Carbonette said. He also commended the youthful Junior Police members who volunteered their time and efforts to help him and his officers collect on the weekend.

Carbonette also said that no one has been authorized to solicit for the fund except Mrs. Langbein or a city policeman.

GENEROSITY OF GENEROSITY Highway 90 motorists Saturday and Sunday enabled Bay St. Louis Police Chief William Carbonette (holding sign) assisted by city patrolmen and Junior Police Assn. members to collect more than $300 for the Eric Necaise Heart Fund. Tammy Jeanfreau, foreground, accepts a donation as other JPA members take a break. Auxiliary patrolmen Steve Sciana and Clayton Sick (extreme left) were stationed at the south side of the highway with other JPA volunteers.

BAY ST. LOUIS Auxiliary patrolmen Steve Sciana (holding sign) and Clayton Sick along with Junior Police Association members spent better than four hours last weekend at the intersection of Highway 90 and Main St., collecting for the Eric Necaise Heart Fund. The fund has been set up to aid Necaise, a former city policeman and hospital security guard, following open heart surgery. (Echo staff photo by Adoree Shortie) addressing a group of people, you noticed that he said "I'm Joe S. I'm an alcoholic" not "I WAS an alcoholic". For in the world of Alcoholics Anonymous, there are no ex-alcoholics—just alcoholics trying to stay sober.

(Next Week: How does a local AA chapter work? What does it do? Echo news editor Marileen Maher attended two meetings of the Bay-Waveland Group and explains in the last article of this series how 20 people who live in Hancock County are working to fight the problem of alcoholism—for themselves and for others.)

Seems sort of simple, doesn't it. After all, an alcoholic could just follow those twelve steps and that would be it.

Not so. It is a long and hard battle which the alcoholic must fight all of his life. If you have ever heard a member of AA make direct amends to such people wherever possible, except when to do so would injure them or others.

10. Continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong, promptly admitted it.

11. Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God AS WE UNDERSTOOD HIM, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.

12. Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry

Brothers Receive Sentences

Circuit Judge Harry Walker Monday sentenced two brothers charged with possession of marijuana and burglary and larceny of a dwelling to five years in the state penitentiary, suspended, and a fine of $500 plus court costs. Issiah Thomas and Alfred Thomas were charged with the October 11, 1971 burglary of a dwelling where a shotgun valued at $60 and $200 in cash were stolen. An additional charge of possession of a controlled substance was brought at the time of their arrest. Both men entered a plea of not guilty when their trial began Monday but changed the plea to guilty as the trial progressed.

A motion by the state to reduce a charge to malicious mischief against two New Orleans men was sustained by Walker in a case of burglary of the Frostop Drive-In on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis. Gene Paul Lorenzo and Arthur H.

Reese, Jr. were arrested August 3, 1971 and charged with burglary of the drive-in. Following a trial Monday, Lorenzo was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail and fined $500. Judge Walker accepted a defense motion for a lunacy examination for Reese, who was put in custody of the sheriff's office, pending transportation to Whitfield.

In another decision, Judge Walker sustained a demurrer filed by Bay St. Louis attorney Cornelius Ladner, accused by Charles A. Bean of fraudulent legal action in a property settlement. The court gave Bean 30 days to amend his declaration on insufficient cause to sustain Bean's claim against Ladner.

Hancock County Sheriff's Report

Two Lakeshore youths were arrested early Friday morning by sheriff's deputies following an unsuccessful attempt to burglarize a Bayside Park residence.

Mrs. Gloria Thornton of Bay Side Park called the sheriff's office about 7 a.m. and said the two 13-year-old boys had broken into her home. Her son-in-law, G. W. Graham, had been in pursuit as the boys fled from the house.

Deputy sheriff Lathan Garriga and auxiliary deputy Michael McFarland arrived as Graham brought the youths back to the house, where they were placed under arrest.

At the sheriff's office, the two boys admitted to two other incidents of breaking and entering and allegedly stealing articles from both places.

Both teenagers were referred to the county youth authorities pending further action.

'City's Not Broke' Says Arceneaux

In answer to a number of financial difficulties, the questions concerning the General Fund, one of twenty financial situations of the city of Bay St. Louis, Commissioner of Finance Andre Arceneaux, is going to be in a bit of a tight spot towards the end of the calendar year, but this is not an unusual condition. We have issued the following statement:

In recent issues of the Sea Coast Echo, several remarks about the city's financial condition have been attributed to Mayor Carver.

Stemming from these remarks, many wrong assumptions and misunderstandings have been made. Since these statements were published, I have been asked many, many times if the city is "broke". Please afford me the opportunity to correct any wrong assumptions or misunderstandings.

The city is no way near being broke nor is it in any serious

Fire Departments, since the firemen no longer have to man the radios and telephones which is as it should be.

Additional payroll in other departments that were not budgeted have also added to the burden of stretching the tax dollar.

There was a crying and immediate need for additional men and equipment in our Fire Department which arose after our budget was prepared.

These demands were met and I think they were agreeable to the majority of the public.

However, we are now receiving funds from the State for our Fire Department and this should relieve this situation.

In 1971, we continued to give you all the service that you have received in the past even though our taxes received were less than they had been due to the removal of so many improvements on the land roll.

The federal government was supposed to reimburse us the difference which had they done it would have amounted to approximately $40,000.

Needless to say, they didn't. This put us behind before we started.

We have loaned Operation Upturn $50,000 out of our General Fund to close up their operation. When the government audits the books, this money will be refunded to the city.

All cities today suffer to some degree from a lack of money. I think our city is no worse than any other and better than most.

Let me reassure you, the taxpayer, that the city will be able to meet the service you need and we will be able to meet all of our bond indebtedness on time and in good order.

Mayor Carver is certainly entitled to form his own conclusions and make them public; at the same time, I feel that I have that same privilege. Maybe it's just a matter of viewpoint, but I certainly feel the City of Bay St. Louis is well off financially.

69 Arrests Made In TIP Program

According to Earl Riley, Executive Director of the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission, 69 tips have been received through the Turn In a Pusher program since the inception of the program on November 19, 1971. "These tips," said Riley, "may be classified as valid, and many of them provided substantial basis for investigation by the coastal law enforcement agencies. Sixty-nine arrests may be attributed to the TIP program to date, 19 during the present month."

Riley said, "Our law enforcement agencies in all three counties on the Mississippi Coast are doing an excellent job in evaluating and investigating the tips disseminated through this program. The public continues to respond in supporting this program, but we do want to reiterate, it is of vital importance that those individuals furnishing tips provide as much specific and detailed information about the Pusher as possible. This will not only assist the investigating officers, but it will contribute to an early arrest and prosecution, and thus make for prompt payment of rewards. "We wish to also recognize," continued Riley, "the many contributions made by the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Fairly, in combating the illegal traffic of drugs throughout the State."

This State Bureau receives copies of all tips received under our Tip Program. They have provided manpower and technical assistance, upon request, to many law enforcement officers throughout the State, resulting in a spectacular number of arrests. They operate quietly, efficiently and with outstanding success.

"The Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics," according to Riley, "has recently added a speakers' service to its organization, making available a variety of knowledgeable speakers in the narcotics field to clubs and organizations throughout the State. We respectfully suggest that all interested groups avail themselves of this speakers' service."

Riley said, "If anyone has any information concerning a Pusher, please call one of the TIP lines." In Hancock County the number is 467-3401; in Harrison County 863-3401; and in Jackson County 875-3104. Help send a Pusher to Parchman.

ITEMS QUESTIONED
Chancery Clerk John Rutherford, in a meeting Monday said there had been some question of two items approved for payment by the county on the June docket. A warrant in the amount of $79.92 drawn against the county Paupers Fund was the tobacco bill for the county home which totalled $41.16 for May and $38.76 for June.

Another warrant for "ice and cold drinks", authorized by County Civil Defense, was for firefighters and rescue workers at the Ingram Industries explosion and fire on May 24, Rutherford said.

TWO RESCUED
Members of Flotilla 33, Coast Guard Auxiliary aided in two rescue operations during the past week.

Thursday, Rene Negus was rescued near Merrill Light by Flotilla members Johnny Bargar, captain; and crew members Pete and Mary DeLoe and Billy Bargar.

During a regular patrol Sunday, Norris Sumrall and the boat which he was operating were pulled off a sand bar by Daniel Burks, captain; and John and Rose Carey and Dot Burks.

CAMPION COMPLAINS...

regulations on the first 500 feet of Coleman from the beach.

Ashman contended that minutes of the March 22 meeting, are ambiguous as recorded and conflict with the City Hall use map. Campion agreed that there was conflict between the minutes and the map, as did city attorney Lucien Gex who said that the minutes "were confusing and should definitely be changed to properly reflect what was decided at the meeting."

Ashman was accompanied by Glen Bannister who owns property on Coleman Ave. adjacent to Merchants Bank. Bannister told the council that he wanted to operate a commercial establishment on his property but was uncertain whether or not he was within the commercial zone.

At the onset of the lengthy discussion, Alderman Albert Grass, Longo and Bourgeois were adverse to making any change in the minutes but finally conceded to Gex's suggestion. A motion was passed to amend the March 22 minutes to read as follows: "From a point on the North right of way of the beach road 150 feet North on Coleman Ave. is zoned R-1 (single residential). The next 350 feet to a point 500 feet North of the beach road is zoned R-3 (multi-family). From that point on is zoned commercial, as indicated on the use map."

As Bannister's property comes under two zoning regulations he was advised by the council that the south portion of his property could be used for multi-family dwellings and the north 50 feet were within the commercial zone.

Bea Georgi, another Waveland realtor, made repeated and vociferous objections to any part of Bannister's property being designated commercial as she said she had bought the last piece of commercial property on Coleman Ave. Her interjections brought heated retorts from Bannister until she was threatened with expulsion from the meeting by city police officer Don McIntyre.

In other action, the council unanimously passed a motion by Campion to accept the low bid for the city's sewer system as according to Gex, Friday was the deadline for a decision. The low bid of $2,368,776.60 had been submitted by Byrd Construction Co. of Jackson and Wilson Consolidated of Bossier City, La. in a joint venture.

A deductive alternate of $84,735.30 was accepted as well, reducing the total contract price to $2,284,041.30. The deductive alternate called for replacement of all 27-inch sewer pipes with eight, 15 and 24 inch pipes.

This bid, Gex explained, was only for the sewer collection system, and did not include a treatment system which would cost an estimated half million dollars.

Mrs. Eve McDonald, coordinator for the Areawide Model Project for the Elderly, presented the council with a report on the Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis as well as other program activities. She said the program now has two homemakers who make regular visits to ill or bedridden elderly citizens throughout the two-city area. She also commended Mrs. Terry Feeney for the success of the Meals on Wheels program, a newly instigated activity headed by Mrs. Feeney.

Mrs. McDonald said because of county and city fund allocations to the program supplementing federal grants, the operation now serves more than 379 elderly people. She appealed to the council for additional funds on a regular basis to insure continued and expanded operation.

The council assured Mrs. McDonald that a regular contribution would be considered as a budget item at the next meeting.

A representative of the Hancock Watchdog Committee, Earl Ladner, addressed the council with several complaints which included an accusation that the city was paying for street lights installed on private property. When asked to name specific places and instances, Ladner said he couldn't, he was only told there were some. Another complaint concerning city equipment being used to cut grass on private property was parried with the explanation that the city was returning a favor to a property owner who had allowed the city to use his property for refuse storage.

Campion advised the council that deteriorated condition of city water pumps was causing chlorine to seep into pump impellers. If the condition is not corrected, Campion said, the pumps will be inoperable within a year. Campion attributed the condition to a lack of maintenance on the equipment and warned that new pumps would cost the city more than $2,000 to replace.

At the conclusion of the meeting, John Longo told the board that pressing business demands necessitated his resignation as an alderman, a position he has held for 10 years. He gave as his reason expansion of his wholesale frozen food business to a four-state area. Longo said he would present a written resignation at a later meeting.

Carr-Rayborn Exchange Vows

Miss Brenda Gail Rayborn and Bartholomew Carr were united in marriage last Friday evening at 8 o'clock at First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Rayborn of Waveland, and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. James N. Travira of Fenton, Dr. Harold Bryson, pastor First Baptist Church, Carthage, Miss., officiated at the double ring ceremony. The final prayer was read by the Rev. Deacon Elvin Sands, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Organist was Mrs. Glendal Salters of Bay St. Louis. The opening vocal selection, Colour My World, was presented by Ronnie Hague. At the end of the ceremony, the bride's uncle, Dallas Rayborn, Hattiesburg, Miss., accompanied at the organ by his wife, sang "Oh Lord Most Holy."

The couple exchanged their marriage vows before a background of jade fern and palms centered with an arched candelabrum, flanked by matching candle trees holding ivory cathedral tapers. Smaller candelabra with cream chrysanthemums, baby's breath and gypsophelia decorated the piano and organ. Each window held a single candle entwined with English ivy; a cream chrysanthemum, tied with white ribbons and streamers of English ivy, marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of candlelight silkened organza. The shaped bodice was elaborately overlaid with re-embroidered Alencon lace which detailed the sheer yoke and circled the Victorian neckline. The sheer sleeves, elaborately patterned with the lace were held at the wrist by self buttoned cuffs.

The elegant lines of the skirt were emphasized with trellising of lace which extended toward a deeply bordered hemline. Her cathedral length lace edged train drifted from the back. Seed pearls traced the lines of the lace over the entire gown. Her long cascading veils of silk fell from

The guests were greeted by the bride's parents and bridesmaids. Also attending were grandparents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Willie L. Templeton of Starkville, Miss., and Mr. and Mrs. Barthelmy Spotorno of Bay St. Louis. The grandmother's corsages were of fleur d'amour.

Miss Ann Miller presided at the register table. The table, covered with lavender taffeta overlaid with an heirloom cutwork cloth, held a white feather pen and an arrangement of miniature carnations and baby's breath centered with a single white taper.

The bride's table was covered with candlelight net over a satin cloth. The top layer of net, caught with cream chrysanthemums and English ivy streamers, formed swags across the front of the table. Lighted tapers in silver holders flanked the centerpiece of Fugl mums and baby's breath.

The five-tiered wedding cake was topped with a pair of white doves holding pearl wedding bands in their beaks. Angular

Being a good neighbor an Old American Custom

There was a time, not so long ago, when being a good neighbor was a real factor in getting America going - and keeping us on our way.

In that day a man and his sons might cut and hew the timbers for a new dwelling and frame them stoutly on the ground. But before the walls could be raised, before the roof could go on, these builders needed and received the help of their neighbors. It was given generously in the old Colonial "house raising."

The same necessity for being a good neighbor, for helping the other fellow whenever he needed help, was recognized in all departments of early American life. Days of labor and the use of teams were exchanged as conditions of the crops demanded. And in time of sickness, fire, drought, attack, each man was in truth his brother's keeper.

Times are a little different now, but the basic idea is still the same. It just makes good sense to "Be a Good Neighbor" - it's an old American Tradition!

Bruce Fayard attended the groom as best man. Ushers were Robert Bourne, Donald Bourne, Glen Fayard, and George Wurz of New Orleans, cousin of the bride. Randy Jordan, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Alan Lagarde and Stephen Johns served as altar boys for the ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli and daisies along with potted palms decorated the church. Mrs. John McKenna, organist, presented traditional music.

The bride was lovely in a formal gown of white Schiffli embroidered eyelet organza. The sheer yoke, bodice and deep cuffs were edged with venise lace, combined with pulled through pink satin ribbon. A built in train formed a gentle sweep. Framing her face were tiny pink and white flowers fastened to a short three-tiered veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of white daisies, baby's breath, and tiny pink sweetheart roses.

Ashley Martin, cousin of the bride, of Pascagoula, Miss., and Matthew Johns distributed rice bags to the guests.

A reception was held at the American Legion Home on Green Meadow Road. Decorations of white gladioli, daisies, pink elegance carnations, and potted palms added to the scene.

The brides cake table, overlaid with an heirloom crocheted cloth, was centered with a five tiered cake trimmed with pastel colored daisies and topped with a bride and groom in a bower of pink flowers. On each side of the cake was an arrangement of pink elegance carnations and daisies interwoven among the candles. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Bonnie Blass of New Orleans, La., served the cake.

The punch table was presided over by Mrs. Pauline Wurz of New Orleans, La. and Mrs. E.R. Perkins of Pascagoula, aunts of the bride. Miss Betsy Jacobs, cousin of the groom, assisted at the guest register.

The mother of the bride chose a light blue knit dress with white accessories and a white sweetheart rose corsage which the bride used on her going away costume.

The mother of the groom wore a pink knit dress and a corsage of white sweetheart roses.

For their wedding trip to New Orleans, Avery Island, and other places of interest, the bride wore a navy and white acetate hot pants suit with red and navy shoes, red straw purse and a wide brimmed navy hat. Upon their return, they will be at home at 305 Ballentine Street in Bay St. Louis.

What's Peanut Butter Without Bread?

Let's face it. Some of us like to eat peanut butter by the spoonful. But admittedly we're in the minority. Over half of all peanut butter eaten annually in the United States is eaten in the form of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. The average shopper buys at least one loaf of bread each week and a jar of peanut butter every 2.8 weeks.

It's smart nutrition to keep a jar of peanut butter always on hand ready for quick energy snacks, for breakfast toast and lunchtime sandwiches. If you're a traveling family, keep a jar of peanut butter in the glove compartment, along with a box of crackers and spreader. You never know when you'll get caught up in traffic and kids are starving. Peanut butter comes to the rescue. It is a high energy food yet contains relatively little carbohydrate. It is one of our richest sources of protein among foods of non-animal origin and is an excellent source of niacin, a B vitamin.

For an at-home peanut and bread duo, try this recipe for Nutty Peanut Butter Bread: Slice 1 round (1-pound) loaf of bread vertically 5 to 7 times nearly to bottom of crust; then slice 5 to 7 times in the opposite direction. Place the bread on aluminum foil and curve it around the base of the bread, then place bread in a shallow baking pan. Melt 1/2 cup margarine in a saucepan over low heat. Stir in 2 tablespoons Skippy peanut butter and 1/2 cup light corn syrup. Spoon over top and sides of loaf dribbling mixture down all cut edges. Sprinkle 1/2 cup chopped peanuts into cut edges and on top. Place in a 300° F. (slow) oven for 15 minutes or until heated through.

Girl Scout Cadet Troup 129, Bay St. Louis, recently toured the French Quarter in New Orleans. They were accompanied by Mrs. Louis Maynard, leader, and Mrs. Walter Gibbons, assistant leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Protti and children of Belle Chasse, La., have returned home after spending several weeks at their summer cottage on Dunbar Avenue.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Meddling with Merchandise

To lift her spirits, Virginia decided to become a bleached blonde. She stirred two bleaching products together and applied the mixture to her hair. Results scalp burns.

In short order, she demands damages from one of the manufacturers. But at the trial, the company pointed out that its directions warned against mixing the product with anything else.

"The fact remains," said Virginia, "that a bleach should not become dangerous merely by being mixed with another bleach."

However, the court turned down Virginia's claim. The judge said she had meddled with the merchandise at her own risk.

With increasing frequency, manufacturers are being held liable for harm inflicted by their products. But if the consumer had substantially tampered with the product before using it, that usually will let the manufacturer "off the hook."

This is true even if there is no specific warning against tampering.

Another case involved a ladder which collapsed under a man's weight, throwing him to the ground. But before using it, he had nailed strips of wood along the bottom in hopes of giving it greater stability.

Because of this alteration, which changed the ladder's distribution of weight, a court ruled that the man could not hold the manufacturer liable for his injury. On the other hand, not every alteration will increase the chance of an accident. In another case, a hunter widened a cartridge slot on his rifle. Later, during an outing, he was hurt when the gun exploded in his hands.

Here too, when the man brought suit, the gun manufacturer relied on "tampering" as a defense. But a firearms expert testified that the explosion was due not to the widening of the slot but to an original defect in the steel.

Accordingly, the court held the manufacturer liable. The judge said that in these circumstances, the hunter's alteration simply made no difference in the eyes of the law.

GOLDEN TOUCH OF HOSPITALITY

Cook With An Oriental Flair

Most of us limit our use of cucumbers to salads and to the relish or pickle tray.

Chinese cooks are more imaginative. They often saute the cucumber — frequently with shrimp.

Now, when cucumbers are available in abundance, try Cucumber Shrimp Sauté.

Cucumber Shrimp Sauté

1 pound fresh shrimp, shelled and deveined or 2 (14-ounce) packages frozen shrimp, partially thawed

1 tablespoon dry sherry

1 tablespoon corn starch

2 teaspoons salt

1 teaspoon sugar

3 medium cucumbers, pared

5 tablespoons corn oil

Cut shrimp in half lengthwise. Mix shrimp with sherry, corn starch, 1 teaspoon salt and sugar. Set aside. Quarter cucumbers lengthwise and remove seeds. Cut into 1-inch diagonal pieces. Heat 2 tablespoons of the corn oil in a quart saucepan over medium heat. Add cucumbers and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook, stirring frequently, until cucumbers are slightly transparent, 3 to 5 minutes. Remove cucumbers; keep warm. Add remaining 3 tablespoons corn oil to oil in saucepan, heat. Add shrimp mixture. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until shrimp are almost tender. Add cucumbers and cook 2 to 3 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Chinese cooks are more imaginative. They saute the cucumber, frequently with shrimp.

Flood Insurance Costs too Much? Look Again...

Newly reduced flood insurance prices for homes and businesses in the flood-prone areas of Mississippi make flood insurance available at about 40% below what it was. This means, for example, that it now costs only $25 to insure to $10,000 a single family home valued at $17,500. Or the entire amount can be insured for only $43.75.

A business property in these areas valued at $30,000 can be fully insured for only $120.

Contents, furniture and equipment can also be insured at low cost.

This important coverage at the reduced cost can be obtained in communities which are eligible under the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968. To find out more about coverage available in your area, contact your insurance representative.

The Travelers Insurance Companies in Jackson serves Mississippi for the National Flood Insurers Association.

ALASKA-BOUND ENVIRONMENTAL data buoy EB-03 is moved through lock to East Pearl River by Turbine Tug CLERMONT on way to New Orleans, La. for loading on board vessel BUCKEYE STATE. Action is at entrance to NASA

Mississippi Test Facility canal system location of National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's National Data Buoy Center. The buoy is to be deployed in the Gulf of Alaska in late August. Final instrumentation will be undertaken in Seattle, Wa.

Buoy Will Transmit Data From Alaska

Weather forecasting throughout the State of Alaska and down the entire west coast of North America will soon benefit from meteorological information gained by environmental data buoy EB-03.

Scheduled for deck-loading on the State Marine Lines' vessel BUCKEYE STATE, the buoy left New Orleans, La., July 15, and will arrive in Seattle, Wa. on August 3, via the Panama Canal.

Deployment will be undertaken directly from Seattle by the United States Coast Guard Cutter YOCONA. The buoy will be moored in a position approximately 185 nautical miles (nm) southeast of Kodiak and 385 nm almost due south of Anchorage, both centers being in Alaska.

Designed to withstand 150-knot hurricane winds, 60-foot waves and 10-knot currents, the platform will, when fully instrumented, carry more than 100 sensors to measure and record meteorological and oceanographic conditions.

The buoy, after mooring, will provide data on surface wind speed and direction, barometric pressures, air temperature, humidity, precipitation, wave action, solar radiation and surface water temperatures and subsurface data on water current speeds and direction, water salinity, pressures, temperature and the like.

To accomplish these tasks, the buoy will be equipped with beacon and satellite antenna, VHF transceivers, HF discote antenna, meteorological instrument packages installed 15 and 30 feet above the sea surface and oceanographic instrument packages at 12 locations on the mooring line at depths between 30 and 1,500 feet.

Having its own computer system on board, the buoy will, upon interrogation by radio, relay its collected data to shore.

Equipped with two diesel driven electric generating plants, the buoy is designed to remain on station for two years without servicing.

NBC Producer Writes 'Letter Of Thanks' in America.

Martha Cox, producer of the NBC network television show "No Place Like Home", wrote a letter of appreciation to Mrs. Arnette Giles of Pearlinton, and her daughter, Faye, for their cooperation during a recent filming of an episode for the TV show.

Mrs. Giles and Faye starred in the episode titled "Neighbors", which will be aired on network affiliate stations in January.

In her letter, Miss Cox said, "The fine assistance and cooperation which you gave us on the television program 'Neighbors', certainly helped to make it a success. Your comments held my interest and were expressed clearly and effectively."

Mrs. Giles, as the 1971 winner of the Volunteer of the Year Award by a national agency, was requested by U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare officials to participate in the show, which is a 10-part station exchange series, dealing with community affairs.

The series is produced and filmed at NBC-owned TV station WRC-TV, in Washington, D. C. Faye and Mrs. Giles flew to Washington June 28 for the filming.

Local Boy Wins Award At PRC Basketball Camp

Ninety boys attended the third annual Pearl River Junior College basketball camp from June 12-23. The boys came from many of the schools in the PRC district as well as from Louisiana.

Miller Hammill, former cage coach at PRC and now Dean of Men, served as camp director. Serving as the chief instructor was Coach Larry Ladner, an instructor at USM. Also serving as instructors were two outstanding young coaches in Mississippi, Randy Reed from Purvis and Ronnie Cowser from Lumberton. Coach Bob Garrison served as a guest lecturer on Friday of the senior high division session.

Three HNC Players Sign With PRC

Coach Billy Holmes, new head basketball coach for the PRC Wildcats, has announced the signing of seven players to basketball scholarships for the coming season.

Kenny Seals, Jamie Ladner, and O'Neil Cuevas have been signed from Hancock North Central. Others signing with the Wildcats are Larry Riley from Forrest County AHS, Ceroy Jefferson from Prentiss, Rand Boudins from Lumberton, and Myjellour Mingo from Columbia. "We feel these boys can be an asset to our program at PRC," stated Holmes. More players will be signed in the next few weeks.

Each player was given a certificate of participation and several players were given special awards. A very large crowd of parents, coaches, and friends attended this session.

Cited for the special awards in the camp were: Junior High Division—Best Offensive, Bobby Seale, Hancock North Central; Best Defensive, Derry Dunnaway, West Marion; Free Throw Champion, Donnie Ray Hills, Purvis; Sportsmanship, Denny Deavers, Sumrall; Hustler, Ronald Simmons, Franklinton, La. Senior High Division—Best Offensive, Donald Rigby, Richton; Best Defensive, Stanley Tatum, Purvis; Free Throw Champion, Greg Bates, Petal; Sportsmanship, Marcus Lomas, Brooklyn; Hustler, William Parrish, West Marion.

"This is the most successful camp we have ever had," stated Dean Hammill. "Coach Reed and Coach Cowser did a splendid job of instruction. We had a very outstanding group of boys. This all made for a very rewarding camp," Hammill added.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

City-County Library Writer

Among the prominent men Mississippian, the official who were leaders in Democratic newspaper from Mississippi a hundred years 1854 to 1860.

Barksdale must be set high, broke up at the Charleston But he did not quite reach the convention of 1860, Barksdale's top, and it is difficult to understand why he did not.

Brekinridge and Lane, but of Barksdale was four years old when his parents brought him to Mississippi from this birthplace at Smyrna, Tennessee. Barksdale returned to his farm and — now a full-fledged politician — was the studies, but he did not go to State's representative in the college; his older brother, William, tutored and advised him during his early years and was largely responsible for his extensive knowledge of law and legal procedure. The family settled on a farm north of Jackson and here, at age nineteen, Barksdale married Elice Harris. Two years later he became editor of the Yazoo Democrat and began the outstanding newspaper career which carried him to national prominence.

Under his editorship the paper was a great success and became the official organ of the Democratic party in 1876. Six years later he was elected to the U.S. House of State. In 1880, when he was only 26 years old, he became editor of the Jackson years as chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee in Jackson.

Throughout his career Barksdale was brilliant as a political speaker. His sharp, caustic manner and uncompromising advocacy of what he thought was right, made him a foe to be dreaded on the platform. He never forgot or forgave what he considered an insult and for many years verbally pursued an unlucky editor who had referred to him in an editorial as "Ethel". In 1891 Barksdale ran for the U.S. Senate, but suffered one of the few defeats in his career; he retired to his farm where he died a year later, aged 69.

Barksdale has been referred to by historians as "the man for a crisis", and he saw and met plenty of them during his long political life. Primarily an editor, and good one, the turbulent issues of the time forced him into politics and he quickly became a leader there as he had been in the news paper world. As the years have passed, Ethelbert Barksdale has assumed ever greater stature as one of Mississippi's most noted citizens.

This was the most difficult period in the history of the State, and Barksdale was right in the thick of the reconstruction reform movements, including the famous impeachment of Gov. Ames in 1876. Six years later he was elected to the U.S. House of State. In 1880, when he was only 26 years old, he became editor of the Jackson years as chairman of the most rivers and out in the Bay. They have no regard for those fishing in small boats. Seem like they enjoy seeing how close they can come to your boat. For those fly fishing it is about 10 minutes after they pass before one can resume fishing. They could at least stay out in the middle. Don't know that by washing fish eggs up on the bank they are destroying a lot of fish after spawning. These boat riders have just as much right to the waters as fishermen but they could at least be courteous and considerate of the other fellow.

M. F. Cass was visited at his camp on 4 Dollar Bayou Saturday by Bill Braxton and W. T. Bill Reed of Gulfport. Both Bills are ardent fishermen. They specialize in fly fishing and spin casting and go after fresh water fish most. Both love their hunting and spend plenty of time camping in the woods. What do they hunt? Most everything!

Met two regular fishermen Mitohel A. Frey and Oliver H. Frey. They hail from New Orleans but do most of their fishing in Pearl River territory. Both are real sportsmen which means they hunt too. Keep on coming over fellows.

W. Jack Herrington was down from Hattiesburg at his camp on Bayou LaCroix with his family. They always have a good time he claimed.

An old Babylonian Proverb: The gods do not deduct from man's allotted span, the hours spent in fishing! Author unknown. Think it is rather cute.

John Genin home over the weekend caught some bass at Pearl River Saturday. Don't know exactly how many. Lucky fellow.

Cliff Foster of Memphis has returned home after a vacation in Bay St. Louis. Did some fishing, floundering, etc. Claims he will be back in November to do some fly fishing up Pearl River. Should be good then, Cliff.

Clark M. Hoffpauer, director of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, today announced that at a board meeting held last week in Alexandria the commission adopted a policy concerning the introduction of the white amur, or grass carp, into Louisiana. In a unanimous decision, commission members agreed that no releases of the fish into state waters will be made presently, that possession and introduction in Louisiana remain prohibited in accordance with public law, that first priority of research in the state will be the development of sterile carp with all other research being conducted with these sterile fish, and that none of the carp family be possessed, sold, or caused to be transported into Louisiana without written permission of the commission.

Hoffpauer explained that although there was considerable public interest in releasing the white amur for reasons of aquatic vegetation control, a cautious approach to introduction must be taken in order to eliminate possible harm the species could do to marshes, overflow areas, and even flooded areas, and even

DOVE SEASON OPENS SEPTEMBER 2 IN MISSISSIPPI

The Mississippi Game and Fish Commission, according to Avery Wood, director of conservation, has set the 1972-73 open seasons on migratory upland game birds and a special nine-day (9) statewide teal season September.

The open season dates were selected within federal frameworks. Bag limits, shooting hours and other restriction were set by federal regulations.

Open seasons on mourning doves for Mississippi are September 2 thru October 1; November 23 thru December 2; and December 16 thru January 14, totaling 70 half-days. Shooting hours are 12:00 noon to sunset. Bag and possession limits: 12 and 24.

The open season on rails and gallinules will run from October 28 thru January 5. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise until sunset. Daily bag and possession limits for sora and Virginia rails in 25, singly or in the aggregate. The bag and possession limits on king and clapper rails and gallinules is 15 and 30.

Open season dates on common snipe and woodcock for Mississippi are December 18 thru February 20. Daily bag and possession limits on snipe are 8 thru 16. Bag and possession limits on woodcock will be 5 and 10. Shooting hours on snipe and woodcock are from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset daily.

A special nine-day (9) statewide season on teal will open September 16 and run through September 24. Bag and possession limits are four (4) daily and eight (8) in possession of blue-winged, green-winged or cinnamon teal.

Shooting hours are sunrise to sunset in all areas, however, hunters on the Barnett Reservoir are reminded that reservoir regulations close waterfowl hunting at 12:00 noon each day.

A valid waterfowl stamp is required for hunters age 16 or older hunting teal.

Things changed Sunday. Fresh water fishing was better. Tides were lower and falling in the afternoons. Bass and perch were hitting popping bugs.

Popular places to catch bass and perch right now are Middle River, up or down, Johnson Pass and Pearl River proper. Remember you have to have a Louisiana license to fish these places they are in La. Any one using artificial tackle and baits must have a license. Am running the following article to explain more fully regarding licenses.

Announcements concerning the possessions of fishing licenses and illegal use of certain shrimping nets are made by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission through its director, Clark M. Hoffpauer.

Fishing Licenses Hoffpauer urged all resident and out-of-state sports fishermen to have a valid Louisiana fishing license in their possession at all times, noting that an exceptionally large number of citations for fishing license violation has been issued recently, especially in the southern portion of the state.

"Every fisherman in the state must have a fishing license if he fishes with rod and reel or any form of artificial bait or lure," the director said. Exceptions to the rule are fishermen using either cane poles or fishing pole without reels or any fisherman under sixteen years of age. Free permits are issued to those over 60.

Hard crabs are not being caught too plentifully, but those that are netted are large ones. Gumbo crabs are being caught in bayous and canals in most subdivisions.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK

LOUIS DEMORAN a local resident and known to most everyone, believe it or not, was a commercial fisherman when younger. Louis knows the waters around here like a book. A lot about fishing can be learned by talking to him. He likes to reminisce, too.

Local gardeners are reaping the benefits of a little work at planting time. They are picking tomatoes, eggplants, bell peppers, etc. Helps out on the family budget. Vegetables raised by one's self always taste better.

The 5th Chandeaur Ho Fishing Rodeo held out of Point-a-la Hache, South Pass, Empire and Lafitte in June was reported as "bigger and better than ever." Plaquemine's Clerk of Court Allen L. Lobrano was general chairman of the Rodeo, Dr. Lawrence LeBon, a local resident, is president; Carl J. Delcove, admiral of the fleet and Robert L. Lobrano, Commodore of the fleet.

Marquez's Bar had its opening last Saturday night on the beach. It was a gala affair with a shrimp boil enjoyed by new and old customers alike. It brought back old times before Camille destroyed the old building. We think it is an added attraction to this section of the city. Eddie Marquez its owner, has big hopes for the future and out does himself to satisfy his customers. It is a place where fishermen meet, little refreshment, and trying to catch a few fish.
